St. Louis, June 9 .- Rocky fielding and Indifferent base running cost the Nationals the opening game of the series with the Browns here to-day by 4 to 3.

It was the fifth consecutive defeat by one run that Cantillon's corps has suffered in five days. The Nationals started well, but closed miserably.

Tom Hughes pitched a good game and held the Browns without a semblance of a hit for four innings. They fell on him In the fifth, however, and continued it through the seventh, though the total hits of Graham and Howell.

Until the batting spurt in the fifth the Nationals led by two runs, St. Louis scoring the winning tallies in the seventh.

Graham opened the game in the box for St. Louis, but was sent to the stable at the opening of the second round and Howell put in his place. at Seventh and Rhode Island avenue. It all happened in the fifth. Not the slightest semblance of a hit did the Georgetown youngsters make, but when the High Schoolers got through bungling-four of them took a hand in itthe Preps had chased three runs overenough to win. It occurred in this wise: cer dropped Jones' fly, and Reichard could not pick up O'Connor's bunt. Three on. Cogan's out, short to first, scored Haizlip, and Jones and O'Connor scampered home when Goodman made a mess of Sitterding's chance.

Reichard's Poor Support. Reichard, of Tech, was opposed to O'Connor on the slab, and each twirled a commendable game, but had the Maroon merce battled for victory yesterday on at Eighth street and Florida, avenue and Gray man received the support his won hands down.

Each allowed the same number of hits, any one inning, while three were bunched on O'Connor in the third. In addition the latter issued four passes, and fanned ten, while Reichard gave two free tickets and whiffed twelve. Tech was first away, getting its two runs in the third. Spencer hit safely,
